

INSTITUT DRUŠTVENIH NAUKA
Institute of Social Sciences

PH. D. ANDREI RADULESCU

- Macroeconomist with background in European economic and monetary integration and experience in macroeconomic research and forecasting at top institutions in Portugal and Romania
- Graduate of the Academy of Economic Studies in Bucharest, Faculty of International Business and Economics in 2001
- Master's Degree in Economics, Faculty of Economics, University of Porto, Portugal in 2004, with the dissertation "Fiscal Policy: an assessment of the Stability and Growth Pact", available within the National Library of Portugal
- Ph.D. in International Economics, Academy of Economic Studies in Bucharest in 2007, with the thesis "European Monetary Integration"
- Post-doctoral degree, Romanian Academy in 2013, with the dissertation "Convergence and divergence within the European economic and monetary integration"
- Career in financial analysis within Banco Portugues de Investimento, the Corporate Finance Department, at Porto headquarters in 2001. During 2005-2006 - macroeconomic research and forecasting for the Portuguese Social Security Fund, the biggest investment fund in Portugal
- From 2007 to 2014 work on Romanian capital markets, doing macroeconomic & financial analysis and forecasting
- At present - director of Macroeconomic Research of Banca Transilvania, the largest lender in Romania, responsible with the macroeconomic analysis and forecasting for the Romanian, European and US economies
- At the same time - Scientific Researcher at the Institute for World Economy, within the Romanian Academy, being responsible with the macro-financial analysis of the global economy, European economy and of the international financial markets
- Andrei is a constant guest at high level global & European scientific events, with presentations on macro-financial topics (global, European and Romanian). Over the past quarters Andrei participated with presentations at conferences organized by the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, Konrad Adenauer Stiftung (Singapore, Astana), Rimini Centre for Economic Analysis (Canada), Society for the Study of Emerging Markets, Institute for Cultural Diplomacy in Berlin, University of Porto, ISEG Lisbon, University of Leipzig, Economic Policy Institute in Sofia, etc.
- Author of the Volume "The Great Recession: from the global economy to the national economy" (2012, Expert Publishing House)

TEMA PREDAVANJA

“Romanian economy and future expectations”

Predavanje će biti održano na engleskom jeziku i predstavljat će koncizno izlaganje o ekonomiji Rumunije, uticaju Evropske unije na nacionalnu (u ovom slučaju rumunsku) ekonomiju i očekivanjima u budućnosti od rumunske ekonomije u kontekstu širih evropskih makroekonomskih tokova, koji će biti posebno eksplicirani, što su veoma korisna iskustva i saznanja za auditorijum u Srbiji.